Italian company Rexa Design proudly releases their all new bathroom collection called the Esperanto. Its items were all designed by Monica Graffeo and each is ideal to be placed even in small spaces. The collection comprises of modular units that can be worked out like some kind of a puzzle not just for the functionality of the bathroom but also for added aesthetic design.

Its units can be chosen to be hung right up the wall or even be situated on trestles. Top it all off with items like holders, mirrors and sink basins. Check out more about the Esperanto collection via rexadesign.it.
